On receipt of such declaration the Registrar may register the death or, if it appears to him that it will be possible in the future to obtain a medical certificate of the cause of death of the deceased, the Registrar may, without registering the death, issue a certificate under section 32 that he has received notice of the death of the said deceased:

(2) In any case where the Registrar has received notice of a death in respect of which no medical certificate of cause of death can be obtained and in which no post mortem examination under the Coroners Law (1995 Revision) has been ordered, he must forthwith send notice in writing of such death to the Chief Medical Officer, and if, as a result of investigations into the circumstances of the death, the Chief Medical Officer, at any time within forty-two days of the date of death, sends a written certificate of the cause thereof, the Registrar shall enter the particulars of such cause on the counterfoil of the registration form, or on the form and counterfoil if both are still in his possession, and send such certificate to the Registrar-General.

(3) Upon the change in registration of a birth in accordance with subsection (1) or (2), the Registrar-General shall cause a note of the fact of such change to be entered in the margin of the original entry of such birth, in the general register of births and in the margin of the entry in the registration form book deposited in accordance with section 48, and thereafter, subject to subsection (4), the Registrar-General shall only issue a certificate which shows the change in registration.
